Enhance Tutor Training Sessions Using The 5 Key Theories Of Intelligence Thursday, March 25 ~ 3:00-4:00pm (Eastern)

Once the live date has passed, this training will be available on demand.

Overview

Research shows that a students' conception of intelligence influences how they engage in learning experiences. Most students operate with a basic understanding of traditional views of intelligence-either you are born with it, or you're not. Teachers often hear students muse, "I'm not good at math, or I can't write." In recent years these theories have been challenged; teachers and learners alike have come to understand different theories of intelligence, and as a result, have seen student achievement increase. If arming students with knowledge of various theories of intelligence can help them with the pursuit of achievement, then where is the best place to build this into the curriculum? Tutor training programs are an ideal place for students to learn about the different theories of intelligence and how conceptions of intelligence mediate academic achievement. If tutors have this basic understanding, they can, in turn, help their tutees overcome potential barriers to their learning.

This webinar explores the top 5 theories of intelligence (GRIT, Growth Mindset, Cultural Intelligence, Emotional Intelligence, and Multiple Intelligences). It discusses basic strategies of how to build them into your tutor training curriculum.

Objectives:

- Develop an understanding of five key theories of intelligence
- Learn about how these intelligence concepts influence student achievement
- Reflect on current strategies that participants utilize in tutor training to introduce concepts of intelligence
- Discover approaches, lessons, and exercises that will engage and teach tutors about concepts of intelligence
- Discuss ways of encouraging tutors to help their tutees overcome potential barriers to learning associated with tutees' concepts of intelligence

Who Should Attend?

- Learning center administrators
- Writing center administrators
- Tutor trainers
- Learning specialists and academic coaches
- Student Services/Affairs
- Any educator interested in learning more about the Concepts of Intelligence

Speaker(s)

Laurie L. Hazard / Assistant Dean for Student Success

Bryant University

Laurie L. Hazard is the Assistant Dean for Student Success at Bryant University in Smithfield, RI. As a member of the Applied Psychology Department, she writes about parent involvement, student personality types and classroom success. She is an award-winning expert on how students can make successful transitions from high school to college. After earning her Master's of Education degree from Boston University in counseling, she received a Doctoral degree from Boston University in Curriculum and Teaching. Laurie is co-author of the book Foundations for Learning, 3rd Edition (2012, Prentice Hall), which is designed to help students make a successful transition to college by encouraging them to take responsibility for and claim their own education. Hazard's textbook has been adopted by colleges and universities around the country, including Boston University, University of Nevada, and Texas A&M. Richard J. Light, the Walter H. Gale Professor of Education at Harvard University, calls Hazard's book "a winner for any college student" that is a "beautifully written joy to read." Laurie's expertise has garnered national media attention. She has been interviewed and cited as an expert in the Associated Press, Seventeen Magazine, The Chicago Tribune, The Times Picayune, The San Diego Tribune, and Student Affairs Leader. Laurie has also been a guest columnist for the Washington Post's Answer Sheet: A School Survival Guide for Parents (And Everyone Else). Her articles offer concrete advice for parents of new college students: "How to Help Your Child Adapt to College Life," and "Parents Should Leave their Kids Alone at College." Most recently, Laurie has written a book with co-presenter Stephanie Carter, called Your Freshman Is Off To College (2016).
